2. Listing of Proposed Changes

The title of this course is the only thing being changed.

3. Rationale for Changes

The rationale for changing the title of the course from Planning Design I to Planning Design Studio I is based on advice from our external accreditation consultant for the Regional Planning program. She observed that students were being exposed to “studio” activities (collaborative techniques to solve design problems) in the course, but that the course name did not indicate that the course was a studio. Such a designation is important for our accreditation efforts.
