b. Course Changes

Re-number HIST 335 to HIST 206
 Add HIST 204, 205, 208, and 401, 402, 403, 404, (topics classes)
 Remove HIST 203 (end of calendar 2002)
 Add 3 hours to overall program

3. Rationale for Changes

Changing the 201-203 sequence to a selection of foundation courses

Offers students more options to pursue their interests and provides more flexibility.
 Allowing students to substitute an upper-division course for one of the foundation courses provides more flexibility for students interested in doing more advanced work.

Adding 400-level topics class

Gives students a chance to look at a single topic in greater depth and requires a research paper, introducing them to research skills.

Adding 3 hours for total of 36

Enables students to take more upper-division courses and get a broader exposure to history. The American Historical Association recommends between 36 and 39 hours for a history major, so we would be bringing the major up to the minimum suggested level. The change would also bring the major closer to other majors, such as Political Science – Government-Public Service(39) Sociology (42) Spanish (37) and Fashion Merchandising (39)

Part III Implementation

1. Effects on students in existing program

Effects on students in the existing program are expected to be minimal.

2. Effect on teaching loads

There should be no overall effect on faculty teaching loads. The new sequence of 200-level classes requires 4 courses, the same as the old system. The three additional hours will all be in upper-division courses, which are capable of absorbing more students.

3. Other resources

Other resources will be as adequate for this program as they are for the existing program

4. Student Numbers

We anticipate no change in overall student numbers
