2. The proposed change would substitute geography at the 200 or higher level for the current geography at the 300 or higher level stipulation found under the required social science distribution of the secondary social studies (history concentration) teacher education program.

The reasons for this proposed change are:

- a. broaden the range of student choices.
- b. widen the opportunities for non-western studies.

Part III. Course Proposals

No course proposals are involved.

Jack,

The 200 level is appropriate. Of course, one course is insufficient to be an educated person, but that's another issue. BB
