Fall 2020

The 6 'CLOCK Series

Programs Via Zoom | 6:00-7:30 P.M.

09/14 Bills, Budgets, and Benefits
Financial wellness is an important part of “living a good life,” but the secret isn’t just making more money—it’s about effectively managing your money and determining what your goals and values are—both in college and after! This workshop will go over some tips, tricks, and tools to understand budgeting, debt and repayment strategies, and what to expect as you begin your professional career.

For more than 230 years, new generations have tested the framework of government outlined in the U.S. Constitution. But this year’s events have presented constitutional challenges so great that some question whether the Constitution can continue to effectively serve the needs of our society. Come ask the authors of the 1787 Constitution what they think. What did they hope to accomplish with the Constitution? Do they think that it’s time to draft a new governing document? Why did they allow the Constitution to cast a blind eye toward racial inequality? To commemorate National Constitution Day, we’ll have four of the authors of the Constitution to discuss the work they did in writing the Constitution, and to talk to you directly.

11/02 The Long Road to U.S. Immigration
Panelists will address the long, complicated, and expensive journey that is immigrating to the U.S. legally. They will speak of their experiences in migrating to the U.S. via different forms of immigration: green card through a family member, becoming a U.S. Citizen, or one of the numerous types of visas. The panel will address some of these types of visas, and how each panelist migrated to the U.S. Our speakers will include an immigration lawyer and immigrants from Canada, Iraq, Nepal and other countries.
