

Council of Trustees and Management
Indiana University of Pennsylvania
of the State System of Higher Education
Indiana, Pennsylvania

We have audited the financial statements of the business-type activities and the aggregate discretely presented component units of Indiana University of Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education (the University) as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024, and have issued our report thereon dated November 5, 2024. Our report was modified to make reference to other auditors who audited the discretely presented component units. We have previously communicated to you information about our responsibilities under auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, as well as certain information related to the planned scope and timing of our audit in our statement of work dated May 9, 2024. Professional standards also require that we communicate to you the following information related to our audit.

Significant audit findings or issues

Qualitative aspects of accounting practices

Accounting policies

Management is responsible for the selection and use of appropriate accounting policies. The significant accounting policies used by the University are described in Note 1 to the financial statements.

We noted no transactions entered into by the University during the year for which there is a lack of authoritative guidance or consensus. All significant transactions have been recognized in the financial statements in the proper period.

Accounting estimates

Accounting estimates are an integral part of the financial statements prepared by management and are based on management's knowledge and experience about past and current events and assumptions about future events. Certain accounting estimates are particularly sensitive because of their significance to the financial statements and because of the possibility that future events affecting them may differ significantly from those expected. The most sensitive estimates affecting the financial statements were:

- Management's estimate of the allowance for doubtful student accounts and loans receivable is based on the University's historical tuition and fees revenue, historical losses and periodic review of individual accounts. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the allowance in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.
- Management's estimation of the fair value of its alternative investments is based on the valuation of the equity of the fund performed by the fund manager which is contained in the audited financial statements of the funds. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the investment valuation in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

- Management's estimate of accumulated depreciation and depreciation expense for capital assets is based on the estimated useful lives of the various categories of capital assets. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the useful lives of capital assets and the related depreciation expense in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.
- Management's estimate of the compensated absences liability is based on current and historical information on employee vacation and leave balances, salary and wage rates and other pertinent information available to management. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the compensated absences liability estimate in determining that it is reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.
- Management's estimate of the postretirement benefits liability and expense, the net pension liability, pension expense, and the related deferred inflows and deferred outflows are based on actuarial calculations and allocations performed by actuaries. We evaluated the key factors and assumptions used to develop the postretirement benefits liability, the net pension liability, pension expense, and the related deferred inflows and deferred outflows in determining that these amounts are reasonable in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

Financial statement disclosures

Certain financial statement disclosures are particularly sensitive because of their significance to financial statement users. Sensitive and significant financial statement disclosures include:

- Note 7 – Bonds Payable and Long-Term Debt

The financial statement disclosures are neutral, consistent, and clear.

Difficulties encountered in performing the audit

We encountered no significant difficulties in dealing with management in performing and completing our audit.

Uncorrected misstatements

Professional standards require us to accumulate all misstatements identified during the audit, other than those that are clearly trivial, and communicate them to the appropriate level of management. Management did not identify and we did not notify them of any uncorrected financial statement misstatements.

Corrected misstatements

Management did not identify and we did not notify them of any financial statement misstatements detected as a result of audit procedures.

Management representations

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated November 5, 2024.

Disagreements with management

For purposes of this communication, a disagreement with management is a disagreement on a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditors' report. No such disagreements arose during our audit.

Management consultations with other independent accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with other accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the University's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditors' opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

Significant issues discussed with management prior to engagement

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to engagement as the University's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our engagement.

Audits of group financial statements

We noted no matters related to the group audit that we consider to be significant to the responsibilities of those charged with governance of the group.

Quality of component auditor's work

There were no instances in which our evaluation of the work of a component auditor gave rise to a concern about the quality of that auditor's work.

Limitations on the group audit

There were no restrictions on our access to information of components or other limitations on the group audit.

Required supplementary information

With respect to the required supplementary information (RSI) accompanying the financial statements, we made certain inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the RSI, including whether the RSI has been measured and presented in accordance with prescribed guidelines, whether the methods of measurement and preparation have been changed from the prior period and the reasons for any such changes, and whether there were any significant assumptions or interpretations underlying the measurement or presentation of the RSI. We compared the RSI for consistency with management's responses to the foregoing inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge obtained during the audit of the basic financial statements. Because these limited procedures do not provide sufficient evidence, we did not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the RSI.

This information is intended solely for the use of the council of trustees and management of Indiana University of Pennsylvania of the State System of Higher Education and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.
